Holiday Party: December 17

Mark your calendars and check your inbox this month for our holiday party invitation from Paperless Post. We hope you can join us for dessert, champagne and the opportunity to meet other members of the Gloaming Society.

October Salon: Authenticity

On October 22, the Gloaming Society hosted its salon on Authenticity, where we explored what it means to be authentic and how each of us work differently to know our true selves and embrace who we are as individuals. We discussed various definitions of authenticity as well as the risks and rewards of being authentic. We considered the interplay among courage, vulnerability and authenticity. We commented on those in our lives we believe to be truly authentic and questioned whether authenticity was innate or learned.

“We are constantly invited to be who we are.”
